Minister's message

As the Minister responsible for Parks Canada, I am pleased to present the 2017 to 2018 Report on Fees.

On June 22, 2017, the Service Fees Act received royal assent, thereby repealing the User Fees Act.

The Service Fees Act introduces a modern legislative framework that enables cost-effective delivery of services and, through enhanced reporting to Parliament, improved transparency and oversight. The act provides for:

- a streamlined approach to consultation and the approval of new or modified fees
- a requirement for services to have service standards and reporting against these standards, along with a policy to remit fees to fee payers when standards are not met
- an automatic annual fee adjustment by the Consumer Price Index (CPI) to ensure that fees keep pace with inflation
- annual detailed reporting to Parliament in order to increase transparency

This 2017 to 2018 Fees Report is the first report to be prepared under the Service Fees Act. Additional fee information will be included starting next fiscal year, once Parks Canada Agency fully transitions to the Service Fees Act regime. This report includes new information such as a detailed listing of all fees along with future year fee amounts.

In 2017, Canada celebrated the 150th anniversary of confederation and, as part of the celebration, admission was free to all Parks Canada places. For this reason, in fiscal year 2017-18, fee revenues are lower than in other years.

Parks Canada is committed to meeting the new requirements of the Service Fees Act which aims to minimize costs and ease taxpayer burden. In keeping with the spirit of the Act and the Agency's mandate, Parks Canada's fees will continue to be set with the values of fairness, transparency, and equity of access to our national heritage places.

Catherine McKenna

Minister of Environment and Climate Change and Minister responsible for Parks Canada

| * Fees are adjusted annually in one of two ways: (1) Under the Service Fees Act, fees are adjusted in each fiscal year by the percentage change over 12 months in the April All-Items Consumer Price Index for Canada, as published by Statistics Canada for the previous fiscal year. The Consumer Price Index rate for this report is 2.2%. (2) The fee is subject to a periodic adjustment at a predetermined rate, in accordance with another authority in legislation or regulation. #Should Treasury Board regulations on low-materiality (under development) come into effect before a fees adjustment date, then those fees deemed to be low-material may not be adjusted. These regulations are expected to come into force sometime between April 1 2019 to March 31 2020. † The "Future fee amount and year" is the new amount of the fee, in a future fiscal year other than 2019 to 2020, adjusted by a predetermined rate, in accordance with the authority in legislation or regulation. | | | |
