D – DECLARATION

By signing, I hereby confirm that all information provided is correct and true to the best of my knowledge.

I hereby acknowledge and agree

1. It is the responsibility of the permit applicant to confirm all applications and approvals align. If the construction drawing package for building permit application does not align with all prior development permit and supporting application approvals:
 - a. The building permit, if issued, will be considered null and void, and
 - b. It may require re-assessment of revised approvals to align all applications. This may involve additional fees and time for review. For greater clarity, this is to confirm that the applicant will not unilaterally change their plans between when a development permit has been approved and/or issued and when a building permit is applied for and/or issued. The building code and other approvals contained in any issued building permit(s) must align, and not be inconsistent with, any zoning and site approval aspects of any development permit issued in relation to the project in question.
2. No occupancy of a building or structure may occur without an Occupancy Authorization and/or Certificate of Completion issued by the approval authority.
