

PASS FOR EXPROPRIATED FAMILIES REQUEST FORM

Parks Canada recognizes that many families were greatly affected by expropriation when national parks and national historic sites were established in the past, including in Kouchibouguac National Park. The Admission Pass for Expropriated Families is one of the ways that Parks Canada wishes to commemorate families affected by expropriation. The pass provides families displaced in the creation of national parks and national historic sites with free admission to visit places of personal and family significance.
